When the real-estate and consulting company moved to its new Frankfurt headquarters, the offices of the oval building in Baseler Strasse were completely renovated. The workstations of the 40 employees, some of which are in individual offices, some of which are in share offices, receive natural light either from the interior courtyard or the outer facade of the building. Intensive wall colours in red and green shades create a warm and powerful atmosphere.

Workstations with configurations for two or four employees, created with the invitation system. activation is used as storage furniture and black dot swivel chairs are used for the office. The rolling container with an upholstered top can also be used as a seat by colleagues paying a spontaneous visit.
